

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In an X-ray tube having a metallic vacuum housing containing an anode and a cathode which emits an electron beam proceeding from said cathode to said anode, the metallic vacuum housing is improved by providing several notches into the surface of the metallic vacuum housing.